

The Judges – Biographies

Elizabeth Henderson, M.E.Des., CMM, CMP Chief Sustainability Strategist at Meeting Change

Elizabeth Henderson is an experienced hospitality and meetings industry practitioner with a specialisation in sustainability. She is the Chief Sustainability Strategist for Meeting Change, a business consultancy specialising in integrating business strategy with social and environmental sustainability. As the former Director of Corporate Social Responsibility for the meetings industry's largest professional association, she developed groundbreaking sustainability education for the industry, achieved a global first for the events industry with third party certification under sustainable event standards, and authored tools and sustainability reports. Elizabeth has a Masters degree in Environmental Design (Environmental Science). She is currently involved with the creation of sustainability reporting guidelines through the internationally recognised Global Reporting Initiative Event Sector Supplement. She is the volunteer Learning Design Team Leader for the Green Meeting Industry Council Sustainable Events Conference 2011, and is completing her Masters of Business Administration (MBA) with a focus on Global Energy Management and Sustainability at the Haskayne School of Business. She can be reached at elizabeth@meetingchange.com.