

The Judges – Biographies

Elizabeth Henderson, CMM, CMP, M.E. Des., Director of Corporate Social Responsibility, Meeting Professionals International

Elizabeth Henderson has three university degrees, including a Master's degree in environmental science, and two industry designations, the CMP and the CMM. She has worked in the meetings and events industry for 14 years. She acts as the Director of Corporate Social Responsibility, or CSR, for Meeting Professionals International, the industry's largest association, on a part time basis; as part of this role, she has guided the organization to third-party certification under British Standard 8901 for sustainable event management, as well as team certification of the internal events team. She currently sits on the working group for the Global Reporting Initiative (GRI) event sector supplement. Elizabeth also consults for other organizations, and is co-authoring a book on ethics, responsibility and sustainability in meetings and events.