

Rohit Talwar
CEO, Fast Future Research

Rohit Talwar is an award winning speaker and global futurist who specialises in studying the future associations and the meetings sector. He is the founder and CEO of Fast Future Research - a global foresight research and consulting company. His book on association strategy - Designing Your Future - was published by the American Society of Association Executives in August 2008. He is currently leading the Convention 2020 study on the Future of Meetings, Venues and Event Destinations - for which IMEX, ICCA and Fast Future Research are founding sponsors.